

PRESIDENT'S UPDATE

ISHA SKADE AWARD:

It is with pleasure that I open this report with the news that the official presentation of the International Ski History Association's (ISHA) Skade Award was made to our representative attending their annual Conference and Awards function in Park City, Utah on 4th April.

Our book "THREDBO: Pioneers, Legends, Community" received the 2018 Skade Award and we were delighted that Committee member Randy Wieman was able to attend to receive it on behalf of author Chas Keys and the Society. I wish to acknowledge Chas Keys and his skills in writing this book, as well as thanking Trevor Harrison, Graeme Holloway, Jerry Krejzar, Randy Wieman and Chrissi Webb for their input and effort in the overall production of the book. A more detailed report of the Awards event follows.

GRANT APPLICATION:

We have applied for a $2000 Grant from Museums and Galleries NSW to assist us with the purchase of a Touch Screen & Computer for the museum. The touch screen will add to the experience of visitors to the museum and be in addition to the existing larger monitor. Initially it will have a menu of approximately 10 films from our library, each of no more than 10 minutes duration. Visitors will be able to select a film of their choice from the menu. Of course the potential is there to significantly add more as time goes on.

PRESIDENT'S UPDATE continuedTHREDBO COCKTAILS & EXHIBITION LAUNCH:

At Thredbo Cocktails in the Alpine Museum on Saturday, June 15th marketing and tourism "guru" Wayne Kirkpatrick will launch the Museum's 1989 Thredbo World Cup exhibition.

Wayne was Managing Director/Chief Executive Officer of Kosciuszko Thredbo Ltd. from 1984 to 1989. Prior to that, he enjoyed a highly successful career in marketing and advertising. Thredbo was a client of his for 8 years and he joined the company in 1979.

Upon leaving Thredbo he was MD/CEO of Mirage Port Douglas and Gold Coast Resorts Qld; Ayers Rock Resort NT; and Hamilton Island Qld. In 2002/2003 Wayne successfully completed a management buy-out of Hamilton Island for a consideration in excess of $200m. Wayne sold his share holding in Hamilton Island in 2000 and moved to reside in the Snowy Mountains once more.

Currently Wayne is Chairman of Tourism Snowy Mountains and Director of Destination Southern NSW, an independent private entity established by the NSW Government to stimulate economic growth in the south east quarter of NSW.

For relaxation, Wayne can be found playing his drums on his acreage on the Snowy River Way.

MEMBER SUBSCRIPTIONS 2019/20: In July we will be sending electronically, a subscription notice reminding those members ONLY who have subscriptions due this upcoming financial year 2019/20. If you are one of those who have paid their membership in advance you won't receive a notice at all.

Your support of the society through continuing your membership is of great value as we strive to achieve the Society's objective of assembling a collection of Australia's Skiing /Snowsports History and the development of Thredbo and making that available to the public. Should you wish to enquire further about your membership status then please contact Membership Officer Anne Collet on Ph 5100 3823 or email rainmakerrealty@grapevine.net.au

MUSEUM VISITATION: For the 5 weeks the museum was open over the December- January period, we had 1036 visitors and remained closed on 5 days when unable to find a volunteer to open the doors. For the period February to end of April we only missed 2 days due to lack of a volunteer and saw 789 visitors come through the door. Our thanks to Victoria Incani and her team of local volunteers including Kellie Meehan, Errol Hanlon, Ben Turner, Leah Foster, Michelle Palmer, Jane St Catherine, Jane Mitchell and Elsa Hanlon. Always present of course was Chrissi Webb.

WINTER VOLUNTEERS: The museum will open on the June Long Weekend in full winter mode through to mid October. We again will need many volunteers for the 1.00pm to 5.00pm openings as our Thredbo local volunteers go about their main jobs and responsibilities in the village's high season.

Accordingly, we appeal to our broad membership base with an invitation to assist us by volunteering in the museum if you are visiting Thredbo over the above period. Should you be able to spend an afternoon in the museum or would like more information then please contact me on 9449 7610 or Mob 0417 401 403 or E alanf@bigpond.net.au. Victoria Incani on 6457 6400, or any other Committee member would also be able to help.

We do have a core of members who regularly help us out and who enjoy the interactive experience with visitors during their winter visits. However we always need more if we are to meet our advertised opening days for the public to visit in this peak period.

2019 SYDNEY COCKTAILS - RAHS HISTORY HOUSE

A very entertaining night was enjoyed by 64 members and their guests at Royal Australian Historical Society (RAHS) History House in Sydney on Tuesday night, 21st May 2019.

Alan Fredericks welcomed everyone and showed a fantastic short film of Malcolm Milne winning the 1969 World Cup at Val d'Isere in France. Although it was an old black and white film, the soundtrack had been updated with excellent (if not corny) commentary, music and sound effects.

Alan then did a presentation to Chas Keys (author) of a very special award: The ISHA Skade Award THREDBO Pioneers, Legends, Community 2018. ISHA is the International Ski History Association based in the USA. Unfortunately Chas couldn't make the ISHA function in Park City USA in April, but thankfully Randy Wieman just happened to be in the area at the time so thank you Randy for picking up the award. You can view the award in the museum, a real credit to Chas and Alan for all the hard work putting the book (THREDBO Pioneers, Legends, Community) together. Well done.

Then we moved on to the main subject for the evening, to celebrate Thredbo staging a World Cup event 30 years ago and to hear all about it. Randy Wieman then showed a collection of fabulous old films showing Thredbo 30 years ago staging the World Cup event on August 4-13 1989, a very young Wayne Kirkpatrick could be seen selling the idea to anyone within earshot, a mighty job all those years ago.

So this was a good introduction to our guest speaker of the night, Wayne Kirkpatrick.

Wayne had some really entertaining photos of the preparation of the course and told of the introduction of snow making to Thredbo. One pump down by Thredbo River and one person spending most nights moving the snow jet around. So we can thank Wayne for Thredbo's excellent snow making facilities.

Wayne asked for a show of hands of those in attendance who might have been there for the event - over half the audience had attended. It seems the World Cup was a great event for Thredbo and the Thredbo skiers. Wayne finished with a Q&A, one obvious question was "would there be another World Cup in Thredbo?" I think we all know the answer to that. The night finished with Alan thanking Wayne and Randy, in addition to thanking Kate and her team for helping with the wine and nibbles.

For those who missed the night, Wayne and Randy will be repeating the show at the Thredbo Cocktails and Museum Exhibition Launch at the Thredbo Alpine Museum Saturday 15 June 2019, 5.30 to 8.30pm. It should be another entertaining night. RSVP: Victoria Incani, Ph: 6457 6400, Email: thredboskiclub@bigpond.com

VALE:

Phyllis McKee (nee Bruce) 1937 – 2019. THS member, Bombala born Phyllis McKee was a talented slalom skier and member of the NSW State Ski Team. A protégé of Sasha Nekvapil, she placed 2nd in the 1960 NSW Championships and she narrowly missed selection for 1962 Winter Olympics in Squaw Valley. She was very supportive of children's ski racing and played a role in the development of the Inter Schools Ski Racing program. Phyllis was pre-deceased by her husband and child. The Society's condolences are extended to her wider family.

Laurie Seaman Jnr 1929 – 2019 was farewelled on Monday, 13 May at Macquarie Park Cemetery in Sydney. Laurie was an active member of the Palm Beach community as well as a member of the Thredbo Historical Society. It was his father, W. Laurie Seaman and Evan Hayes who perished in 1928 having skied to the summit of Mt Kosciusko when they were members of the Millions Club. Laurie Jnr was his posthumous son. Laurie Jnr will be sadly missed by his wife, Liz, his older brother Bill and many family members and friends to whom the Society extends its deepest sympathy.

Barry May Aged 81 years, Barry May a member of the TSPA for 55 years, was revered and loved deeply by all ski patrollers. He was a true gentleman as well as a patrolling legend. Barry was farewelled at the Sydney's Northern Suburbs Crematorium on 29th May by his wife Barbara, children Sheridan, David, Helen, Anthony, Nicholas, and friends to whom the Society extends its condolences.

SKADE AWARD

The International Ski History Association (ISHA) announced earlier this year that the book "Thredbo Pioneers Legends Community" by Chas Keys was to be presented with the Skade Award 2018. The Skade Award is presented by ISHA for an outstanding work on regional ski history, or for an outstanding work published in book form that is focussed in part on ski history.

Thredbo Historical Society committee member Randy Weiman accepted the Skade Award on behalf of the author Chas Keys and the Thredbo Historical Society team during the ISHA annual conference dinner in Park City, USA, held in early April.

Mr Alan Fredericks, president of the Thredbo Historical Society, said he would like to acknowledge the Society's pride on receiving the award as well as acknowledging those on the committee who have significantly contributed towards the book's publication by Halstead Press, 2017.

"Thredbo Pioneers, Legends, Community" costing $50 together with a bonus gift of "Thredbo 50 Years" by Jim Darby or "Starting Thredbo" by Geoffrey Hughes, can be purchased from the Thredbo Alpine Museum. The book is also available at the NPWS, Snowy Hydro and Cooma Visitor Centres, Thredbo Newsagency, Larry Adlers and Nuggets Crossing Newsagency in Jindabyne.

AUSTRALIAN ALPINE SNOWSPORTS HISTORY ASSOCIATION (AASHA) 2019 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Ben Lomond Mountain in Tasmania, through the Northern Tasmania Alpine Club (NTAC) hosted the 6th annual AASHA Conference there on Saturday 4 May.

Some 60 people attended the weekend event, many from interstate together with many Tasmanians who had played a role in the development of Ben Lomond as a ski field, over the 90 years since the establishment of the NTAC club in 1929.

Guests were provided with many tales and stories from these Ben Lomond pioneers and veterans, making many feel in awe of their determination to establish the ski field in the face of weather, access and resources - obstacles that would deter most today, no matter how dedicated. NTAC President Greg Rowlings, known to some of our Thredbo members proved an excellent host, supported by his enthusiastic members.

Several THS members including Graeme Holloway and Shann Turnbull spoke at the conference. With his Tasmanian roots, Graeme spoke on the only entry/exit road, locally known as Jacobs Ladder, also his experience of building, owning and operating the only ticket sales, ski hire, and mountain food outlet on the mountain.

Shann gave a most engaging account of his early years there which led to him competing in 4 events at the National Ski Championships there in 1955. Shann placed in all 4 Alpine events and won the "National Combined" title at Ben Lomond that year – narrowly missing out on selection in the National team for the 1956 Olympics.

Our members Randy Wieman, Del Fisher, Jerry Krezjar and Tasmanian born Marion Murri all gave their time and skill to participate in the "Fashion Parade of the Decades" 1910 to 2019 organised by Ken Dawes which mesmerised the audience and "stole the show"!

AASHA President Genevieve Fahey (Mt Buller) conducted the short meeting formalities which saw her remain as the Chair and all existing delegates reconfirmed on the Committee. The meeting heard Karen Smythe, President of the Falls Creek Historical Society, present their plans for the 2020 AASHA Conference to be held there – possibly in April.

Post Script: AUSTRALIAN ALPINE SNOWSPORTS HISTORY ASSOCIATION (AASHA) 2019 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The delegates heard a most interesting presentation by Professor Berni Einoder, a long-serving medical officer and life member of the Ben Lomond Ski Patrol, whose professional interest in the emerging discipline of Sports Medicine was awakened in the early 1970's.

Berni had formulated the original Ben Lomond Ski Patrol manual back in 1973, where the unusual nature of the geomorphologic terrain, the isolation and weather largely dictates the retrieval and method of patient care and rescue at Ben Lomond. Therefore the focus of patient care and retrieval at Ben Lomond is very much more patient 'treatment orientated' compared to more developed 'ski town' based resorts.

Professor Bernard Einoder A.M

The existence of this early manual raises an intriguing question; the manual may well have been the basis of the original one developed by the Victorian Ski Patrol. It was understood that Dr John Zelcer, who was Professor Einoder's registrar for a time, was a major contributor to the development of the manual for the Victorian Ski Patrol Association. We know that Dr Nick Crombie collaborated with Dr John Zelcer early on to compile the original version of the ASPA (Australian Ski Patrol Association), 'ASPA Advanced Emergency Care Manual'.

Over later years Dr Steve Breathour collaborated with Dr Nick Crombie and used the Canadian Ski Patrol Manual also - as the basis of the edited version, which Steve later compiled. This manual became the officially recognized 'ASPA Advanced Emergency Care Manual' in 1986, and is utilized as the basis for on-the-hill patient care and retrieval by all Australian Ski Patrol's to this day.

Were one to assume that a fair amount of 'cross fertilization' between medical practitioners took place, those practitioners who contributed with their expertise throughout the formative years of ASPA; the development of the final version could well have been 'a work in progress' for quite some time.

Taking this history into account, perhaps ASPA should honour all of the above named physicians: as co-contributors - with the formulation of the 'ASPA Advanced Emergency Care Manual'.

IN THE THREDBO ALPINE MUSEUM

Once again, the Alpine Museum attracted visitors with 1,927 people taking time to experience Australia's history of skiing during their summer holiday in Thredbo

Remembering the excitement surrounding the 1989 Thredbo World Cup has Randy Weiman and Errol Hanlon busy dreaming up ways to revamp the Museum and its special display area, which this year will feature images from the event which occurred thirty years ago.

To reflect the colour of the 80s, Committee member Kerri Koczanowski and I wrestled with mannequins by squeezing them into Michelle Reichinger's one-piece ski suits designed by leading European designers. Then Kellie Mehan helped to hang pictures. Visitors will be able browse through Wayne Stinson's collection of memorabilia, which he donated to the Society's archives.

Another anniversary to celebrate is the 50th Anniversary of Malcolm Milne's podium result. A replica of Malcolm's bronze medal is on display. Viewers can compare the medal with Winter Olympic medals won by Torah Bright in 2010 and 2014.

Comments from some visitors to the museum:

Dennks & Sally Caboche, Blaxland NSW: Thank you for your warm welcome. We thoroughly enjoyed our '80s memories.

Zoe, Keila Vic: The best museum I've ever seen in my life ♥

Archer Rea, Jindabyne: Fantastic display, lots of answers from Chrissi

Kathryn Ashton, Wangaratta, Vic: Could stay here all day going through the news clippings

Hannah McConnell, Rural NSW: High quality preservation of artifacts. Lots of interesting things to look at – may be more Torah Bright.

Anh Ngupan & Nhu Vo, Dundas: Loved the explanations from the lady about the history and of snow boarding.

MALCOLM MILNE

It is fifty years since an Australian first stood on a Ski World Cup event podium. He was alpine ski racer Malcolm Milne from Myrtleford, Victoria. In December 1969 at Val-d'Isère, France, Malcolm became the first Australian skier to win a World Cup event. It was also the first podium result by a racer from the southern hemisphere. It also made him the first non-European to win a men's World Cup Downhill.

Two months later, Milne captured the bronze medal in the downhill at the World Championships at Val Gardena, Italy, which also counted as a Ski World Cup podium. Despite a cartilage injury to his left knee, he competed at the 1972 Winter Olympics at Sapporo, Japan when he recovered from a near fall, which cost him any chance of a place.

After Sapporo he turned professional for two years, joining a troupe formed by Jean-Claude Killy, specialising in head-to head parallel- course racing. He retired, and later noted "Someone once said 'that for us to beat Europeans at winter sports was like Austria tackling us at Test cricket.' I reckon it's an accurate judgement." 1989 THREDBO SKI WORLD CUP OVERVIEW

The Caffe Lavazza Ski World Cup was held in Thredbo 11-12th August 1989.

After extensive negotiations spanning a number of years, Thredbo was pleased to stage this event in conjunction with the International Ski Federation (FIS), the Australian Ski Federation and Thredbo Ski Racing Club.

It was an opportunity to showcase the extensive upgrading of the resort after the completion of a $40m capital investment programme that included:

- Extensive slope grooming
- The introduction of an extensive snow making system
- Four quad detachable chairlifts
- The creation of Friday Flat
- The creation of the Crackenback Ridge residential precinct

Thredbo's Chief Executive Officer Wayne Kirkpatrick, said "Key to Thredbo's interest was the live telecasting of the event by Channel 9's Wide World of Sport to a very large national and international television audience and sponsorship by Qantas, Tooheys, Coca Cola and others."

At completion, Hans Schweingruber, the FIS delegate stated ... "This was the best Men's Alpine World Cup event ever!"

Beginning on Monday 5th August 1989, the World Cup Week in Thredbo was a celebration not to be missed when the village was alive with a festive international flavour as racers, officials, journalists, support group and Australian skiers arrived for pre race activities. Après ski included individual Italian, Austrian, Scandinavian & Aussie late nights in the Keller, which might have been the cause for some of the surprises in the race results. Lodges featured in ethnic menus. Fancy dress and fashion parades ensured colour and glamour. Ski Clubs hosted the press and some VIPs.

On Thursday 10th August, the World Cup Opening Ceremony in the Village included a Parade of Flags of the competing nations by local children, bands, choirs - followed by a Flare Run of 600 skiers at nightfall.

Participating nations (15) were Australia, Austria, West Germany, Canada, France, Italy, Japan, Yugoslavia, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, United States

Great skiers from the era – Olle Christian Furuseth (Norway) Marc Girardelli (Luxemburg), Rudolf Neilerlich (Austria), Alberto Tomba (Italy) and Pirmin Zurbriggen (Switzerland) were there to battle it out for vital World Championships points. Australians competing included Stuart Brown, Steven Lee, Richard Biggins, Daniel Warbrick, Sean Grennan, and Timothy Scott. The forerunners were Bert Leibetseder, David Griff, Malcom Milne and Lachlan Clarke.

11th August: The Coca Cola Giant Slalom was held on the Crackenback Course with vertical drop of 390 metres, 53 gates and 71 racers in the 1st run. Lars Boerje Eriksson of Sweden, was the surprise winner of Australia's inaugural World Cup Giant Slalom event. Ole Christian Furuseth of Norway, placed second and Austrian Guenther Mader finishing third.

12th August: Coca Cola Slalom was also run on the Crackenback Course, vertical drop: 205 metres, 74 gates, 73 racers in the 1st Run. Defending World Cup slalom champion Armin Bittner of West Germany won both races with Ole Christian Furuseth of Norway in second place and Bernhard Gastrein of Austria placing third. Crowd favourite Alberto Tomba spun out of control before going off the course.

Every ski race has a Race Committee: The 1989 Thredbo World Cup included World Cup Director: John Kean (AUS), Mens' World Cup Technical Delegate Hans Scheinbruber (AUT), FIS and Technical Delegate Hannes Furstauer, Chief of Race Mr Kurt Lance (Chairman) (AUS) and Chief of Course Laurie Rose (AUS) and many more volunteers.

The success of the World Cup should be attributed to the extensive marketing campaign which began a year before hand when champion skier, Swedish Ingemar Stenmark was invited to Australia; the enthusiasm and support of the Snowy Mountains residents and visiting skiers during the race week, and hard work of the Kosciuszko Thredbo personnel to ensure all went well. Eventually even Mother Nature produced snow on cue.
